PRESENTS...

The September 7, 2022 First Wednesday Contra Dance

When: Wednesday, September 7, 2022 7:30 p.m.

Where: Polish Hall: 3832 N. Interstate Ave. Portland, OR

Admission: $5-$15 sliding scale

It's wonderful to be looking forward to the start of our 2022-2023 season of first Wednesday dances at the Polish Hall. Barring any new wave of Covid, we're on track to play for you on September 7. Please check the Joyride web site for up-to-date information regarding Covid protocols as relates to dancing.

Our caller:

Eric Curl will be traveling from Seattle to call our dance on September 7. Eric has been calling contra dances for many years and has called at our First Wednesday event several times through the years. Expect Eric's calm, competent instruction and fun collection of dances to guide us through the start of our new season. We'll see you at the Polish Hall to kick things off on September 7.

Registration

We may ask you to register to attend the dance because it makes it easier on the folks at the door. It is not clear at this time whether that will be a requirement in September (it is not a requirement at Portland dances this Summer), but when a decision is made this flier will be updated and the information will be on the Joyride web site (see below).

Covid Protocol:

This Summer, as this flier is being assembled, the specific Covid protocols associated with dancing when September rolls around are unclear. There are clear protocols for dancing this Summer, but lots can happen in two-months time. As more information about the trajectory of Covid infections is obtained, we will make decisions and update this flier as well as put all that information on the Joyride web site (see below).
